

Luscious Locks

If you've ever considered putting a few extensions into that short, fine mane, now's the time to do it! Rosa Martinez for Studio Artur in Jenkintown is now using Laserbeamer technology to attach those typically painful strands of hair. The new machine can comfortably put in up to eight extensions at a time, making seamless transitions from your real hair to the fake hair.

The studio is the only salon in the Philadelphia area offering the new technology, which cuts the procedure time in half. (After all, who wants to sit in a salon chair for six hours?) Results last up to four months--plenty of time to show off that new 'do for summer!
